Blind Institute of Technology Academy Salesforce Training Program
Supported by Open Inclusion

What is BIT Academy?

BIT Academy up-skills and re-skills professionals with disabilities by preparing candidates with skills necessary for pre-employment. BIT's training courses teach the knowledge and skills necessary to gain industry recognized certifications in IT and related fields.

- All courses have an independent study component as well as class lessons with instructors
- BIT training is provided at no cost to students.

Registration Form to Become a BIT Candidate

BIT is excited to offer individuals with disabilities the opportunity to become an authorized training provider in Salesforce.

What is Salesforce?

Salesforce is a leading cloud-based customer relation management platform with over 150,000 customers worldwide. Someone has to make certain the system meets the needs of the organization using it, whether that's a nonprofit, financial institution, a healthcare provider, government or corporation. Salesforce Administrators do just that. And the best part about the salesforce platform is that it's accessible.

BIT's course featuring an interactive class prepare students to sit for the Salesforce Administrator Certification Exam. It also prepares qualified individuals to enter into an apprenticeship program with BIT and their partners.

What to expect from the BIT Salesforce Training?

6-20 weeks in length; 2-3 hours per day or week; several times per week. All courses:

- All courses have a large independent study component
- At the end of the course, students are prepared to sit for the relevant certification exam and in many cases, to begin an apprenticeship or be placed directly with one of BIT's hiring partners.

You can Find out more about the BIT Academy here.

Salesforce Training Certification Options:

1. Salesforce Administrator Certification Prep
2. Salesforce Platform App Builder Certification Prep
3. Salesforce Platform Developer 1 Certification Prep

A bit about Open Inclusion

Open Inclusion is a specialist inclusive research, insight and design agency based in the UK and operating globally. Open has been built with, for and by people with deep and different experiences of disability, personally and professionally.

We have a vibrant pan-disability community where you can influence the design of more inclusive products and services. Please sign up to be involved in paid research as and when it suits you.

Please join the Open Inclusion Community here.

For more than 20 years our pan-disability community has been providing diverse insights to inform better solutions. We amplify and synthesize your perspectives to inform leading brands of their diverse customers' experiences, identifying needs, preferences, and priorities. Your insights help create solutions that are delightfully inclusive, accessible and usable to all.

If you have any questions about Open Inclusion, please contact our USA Community Lead, Ali Ingersoll at ali@openinclusion.com.

How and Why Open Inclusion is supporting the BIT Academy?

Open and BIT launched a new partnership to combine our capabilities to empower individuals across the pan- disability community globally to develop in-demand skills and find meaningful work. Both BIT and Open recognize the current levels of employment inclusion and wish to positively influence opportunities for professionals with disabilities to gain valuable, and valued work.

Open Inclusion is a separate organization to BIT and is not responsible for the BIT platform or the program, which is run and delivered by BIT.

A few amazing brands we're proud to have worked with